END WAR BY RESOLUTION IS U. S. PLAN

LARGEST VOTE IN HISTORY OF CITY IS CAST

All Out Today for Municipal Election With Hot Race on for Mayor and Other Offices

WARD CONTESTS ARE CLOSE IN SEVERAL OF PRECINCTS

Fowler and Bentley Close Campaign With Big Meetings

That the vote cast today in the municipal election will be the largest in the history of the city, was the prediction voiced by local politicians this morning. A summer day in April helped to get out a large vote, and this, coupled with the fact that women are today casting their first ballots in a city election, served to swell the vote to record breaking proportions.

Conflicting opinions were expressed in various sections of the city as to the outcome of the mayoralty contest, but as the day passed the opinion that Fowler would be elected appeared to be gaining ground. Various union men were found who said they were former supporters of Mayor Bentley but in this election they voted for Fowler.

Aside from the mayoralty contest principal interest today appeared to center in the contest between Newburg and Frisch for tax commissioner. That the two candidates are running a close race was the opinion in many quarters today.

In the ward contests warm fights are on for alderman in the First ward, where Alderman Smith is opposed by J. E. Murray; in the Fifth, where Alderman Jno. Mulder is opposed by Ferdinand J. Roch, and in the Eighth where George Falk and Alderman George E. Kienholz are candidates.

The polls close at 8 o'clock tonight. Because of the large vote, the counting of the ballots will take several hours in a majority of the wards and it is probable the result will not be known until midnight or later.

Fowler Ends Campaign

The campaign of Frank H. Fowler was brought to a close Monday evening by a rousing meeting at Kabat's hall, attended by more than 400 men and women—all who could find room. An effort to break up the meeting by half a dozen Bentley supporters failed, and evoked a noisy cheer for Fowler from the crowd. Mr. Fowler talked for more than an hour on the issues of the campaign, and was frequently applauded. He was preceded by Dr. H. C. Evenson, who brought with him records of council committee meetings to prove his contention that Mayor Bentley has opposed the market-milk station program from its inception.

"I am told that the mayor visited the milk stations this morning and said he was for them," declared Dr. Evenson. "If that is so I want to say that it is the first time in his six years as mayor that he has ever gone there. I asked him, once, to come out and see how well the plan was working and he refused. He is trying to separate the market and milk station ideas; he says he is for the milk stations but against my 'visionary and impractical' marketing plan. Let me say that the milk stations were from the start and are now a part of the market program. It is all one principle, of giving the people a chance to reduce the cost of living. You can't be for one part of it and against the rest. If you want the milk stations and the market, if you want to cut down the cost of living, vote for it."

Bentley at Concordia

With red fire candles burning in the street outside Concordia hall and an old-time spellbinding political speech going on inside, Mayor Bentley closed his campaign Monday night. There were about 400 persons in the hall, approximately 100 of whom were women. They presented the mayor with a bunch and basket of flowers at the opening of the meeting. Mr. Bentley told his audience how he loved the "common people" and quoted Abraham Lincoln's famous saying that "God must have loved the common people because he made so many of them." He also reviewed the main points in his "declaration of purpose" and inveighed at length against militarism, declaring that if he had made the same statements several years ago he would be "in prison the same as Debs is today." C. A. Ditman introduced the mayor and said the great issue of the campaign was between the La Crosse Tribune and Leader-Press and Bentley. The mayor, however, declared the campaign was between the "common people" and the "silk stockings of Sixteenth and Cass streets."

EXPLOSIVES FOUND SCATTERED THROUGH BERLIN BY POLICE

BERLIN. — Mysterious parcels containing explosives have been discovered during the last twenty-four hours by the police in various sections of Berlin. Some of them were found in private residences, on doorsteps, in hallways and along the tracks of the elevated railroads. Each of the packages was found to be supplied with a fuse which was ready to be lighted.

Police officials declares that the communists had planned a reign of terror here during the recent disorders in central Germany. Precautions taken by government authorities, however, prevented the communists from carrying out the plan.

CHARLES REPORTED ON HIS WAY BACK TO SWITZERLAND

Leaves Steinamanger Tuesday Morning Hungarian Premier Announces

SWISS GOVERNMENT TO ADMIT EX-EMPEROR TEMPORARILY

Permission Will be Withdrawn if Return is Delayed

BUDAPEST.—(By the Associated Press.) — Former Emperor Charles departed from Steinmanger, in West Hungary, near the Austrian border, at 10:35 o'clock Tuesday morning on his way out of Hungary.

Premier Teleky made this announcement in the national assembly.

A special train with the Austrian official escort for the ex-emperor was in waiting at the Hungarian border this morning at the request of the Budapest government.

The route to be taken by Charles through Austria is understood to be by way of Graetz, Innsbruck and Buchs.

Warning has been given that if his return is delayed this permission will be withdrawn.

Switzerland also requires that Charles be obliged to announce his departure from Hungary forty-eight hours in advance, sending his declaration to the Swiss political department.

AMERICAN STAND INCONSISTENT IS CLAIM OF LONDON

Britain Answers Note Claiming Equality for all Nations in Mandate Territory

LONDON—American contentions for equality of treatment for the citizens of all nations in mandated territory, are held by the British government to be "scarcely consistent" with the attitude of the United States toward American oil interests in Mexico City. The British view is expressed in a long reply to Secretary Colby's note of last November 20 which was made public here Tuesday.

The note signed by Lord Curzon, secretary of state for foreign affairs, was delivered March 1 and was in answer to Secretary Colby's exceptions to the San Remo agreement between Great Britain and France relating to petroleum resources in Mesopotamia. That agreement, Lord Curzon said, was not fully understood, it appears, adding that it "aimed at no monopoly or exclusive rights."

The Mesopotamian agreement was said by Lord Curzon to be subject to oil concessions in the vilayets of Bagdad and Mosul granted to British interests before the war and not to be treated "merely as a matter of abstract principle" without reference to prewar negotiations. Rights acquired in Palestine by the Standard Oil company "are no stronger" than these British rights, the note added.

COLORED PORTER IS SENTENCED TO YEAR IN STATE'S PRISON

Gentry Allisson Pleads Guilty to Larceny Committed on Milwaukee Train

ACCUSED CARRIES STOLEN MONEY IN HIS SHOES

Porter Brought Here by Special Agent, E. C. Kilberg

GENTRY ALLISSON, colored porter for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, was sentenced to a year's imprisonment in Waupun by County Judge Brindley Tuesday morning when he pleaded guilty to larceny on the Milwaukee train, No. 18, while running between New Lisbon and this city Monday.

Allisson confessed to the stealing of thirty dollars from the sleeping car of the train. The money belonged to K. L. Smith, who did not identify himself any further than to say that "he was a guest of the Milwaukee road."

Suspected of being connected with the theft of the money, Allisson was brought to La Crosse Monday by special agent, E. C. Kilberg, of the Milwaukee road. Taken to Central station the colored man was searched and found to be in possession of the money which he declared he had stolen from the sleeping car. Upon being searched Allisson was found to be carrying the stolen money in his shoes.

Allisson pleaded guilty to the charge in court Tuesday morning and was sentenced to serve a year in the state's prison at Waupun.

Smith told the court that he was awakened suddenly and missed the money, which he said he had placed in the pocket of his pajama shirt. Allisson first declared he had found the money on the floor. When Smith awakened he said Allisson declared "De Good Lord done must have woke him up." Allisson had been reading a Bible, which he told Smith had been given him by the Salvation Army in Chicago.

GREEKS SUFFERING SERIOUS REVERSES IN BRUSA REGION

Constantine's Forces in Danger of Losing City of Brusa

TURKS ADVANCING IN FORCE UPON GREEKS AT BRUSA

Greek Morale Lowered Following Heavy Losses

CONSTANTINOPLE.—(By the Associated Press.)—Greek forces in North Asia Minor seem to be in danger of losing Brusa, upon which city the Turkish nationalists are advancing in superior numbers. The Greek casualties during the last ten days on the Eski-Shehr front are estimated at 5,000.

Severe losses have been inflicted on the Greeks and the morale of the troops is said to be poor despite the large number of priests who are with them and encouraging them in the battle. Their constant fight against superior numbers and the fact that they have few reserves tended to discourage the Greek soldiers.

Confirm Report of Defeat

PARIS.—Dispatches received in official circles in Paris confirm the reports of a complete check for the Greek troops in the Brusa section of Asia Minor, where the entire Northern Greek army has been obliged to retreat.

Mobolization of three additional contingents of conscripts is reported from Greece as not yielding the forces that had been counted upon for a new offensive.

BONUS TO BE PAID TO SOLDIERS REGISTERING OUTSIDE BADGER STATE

WORST BLIZZARD OF THE YEAR IS RAGING IN IDAHO

VOTING RESIDENCE DECIDES PAYMENTS SAYS COURT RULING

State Loses Fight to Exclude Soldiers Not Credited to Wisconsin Quota

MEANS EXPENSE TO STATE OF MORE THAN $300,000

Need Additional Appropriations to Meet Demands

MADISON, Wis.—The 2,000 soldiers, voting residents of Wisconsin, who registered outside the state, will receive the cash bonus of $10 for each month in the service as a result of the decision of the supreme court this morning affirming the lower court decision in the case of Elles H. Lindemuth against the service recognition board.

Justice Owen in his opinion declared that actual voting residence and not military residence was the basis on which the claim for bonus should be based. The state in fighting the case of Lindemuth, who registered and was inducted into service from Michigan, based its argument upon the contention that under the bonus law only "military residents" or those for which the state got credit in furnishing its quota for the federal draft," could be included under its provisions.

Need More Funds

Over $300,000 will be needed to meet the claims that can be made as a result of the supreme court decision. Payment of these claims which average $150 for each man will deplete the service recognition fund, leaving payment to those who remain in service still to be made without available funds.

The legislature in special session last May voted $1,500,000 of the service recognition fund to the university for construction of a state hospital. Additional appropriation will be needed to meet the demands that are expected to be made.

The decision also excludes from benefits of the bonus law, those who registered in Wisconsin but whose actual residence was established in some other state. No payments have been made to these men.

Lindemuth Case Test

Lindemuth, upon whose case the decision was made, registered during the war in Gaylord, Mich., although his home was in Superior. He was then inducted into service from Michigan and his service not recorded against Wisconsin draft quota. When he returned he made application for the cash bonus, but his application was denied on the ground that he was not a military resident of the state.

TRANSPORT WORKERS DISCUSS ACTION ON STRIKE OF MINERS

Decision on Attitude Union Will Take is Expected on Wednesday

LONDON.—(By the Associated Press.)—For three hours Tuesday morning the 400 delegates of the National Transport Workers' federation, assembled here to consider the attitude of the organization toward the strike of the British miners, debated the strike question without reaching a decision. The conferees adjourned shortly afternoon until 10:30 o'clock Wednesday morning.

During the session the transport workers delegates heard the viewpoints of their leaders presented, together with those of other prominent labor men, including John R. Clynes, chairman of the parliamentary labor party.

During the afternoon the national executive board of the transport workers continued consideration in secret session on the question of joining the miners in their strike. The executive body will probably have recommendations to offer as to the union's attitude at Wednesday's plenary session of the delegate body.

DISAPPOINTMENT IS EXPRESSED IN BERLIN OVER AMERICAN NOTE

BERLIN. — By The Associated Press. — German newspapers, commenting on the communication of Secretary Hughes regarding reparations, express disappointment. They find in it no basis for previous optimism that the United States would support Germany financially or give her moral backing to secure a revision of the indemnity demands and the carrying out of the restitution provisions of the peace treaty.

The Pan-German organs criticise the Washington administration for its insistence "upon the false assertion that Germany brought on the war and must accept the responsibility for it." The only light seen by the press is in the phase declaring that Germany is "morally bound to make reparation, as far as possible."

PEACE AT EARLY DATE IS COURSE TO BE PURSUED

Viviani Informed of Administration's Intention to Make Separate Peace With Germany

NATION WILL NOT ENTER THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Useless to Discuss Subject French Envoy is Told by United States Senators

WASHINGTON. — President Harding is not committed to any definite program with regard to a congressional declaration to declare the state of war with Germany at an end.

While the president voted for the Knox resolution when he was a member of the senate and spoke favorably with regard to it in his address of acceptance, he is understood to feel that there is no occasion for precipitate action at this time.

The president's views with regard to the peace program are expected to be made known at the opening session of the new congress which the executive may address in person. Meantime it is known that the president and his advisers are growing more and more convinced that there is no practical way to consider the Versailles covenant.

The administration's peace program is understood to have been discussed at the regular cabinet meeting today. The president's view is said to be that in view of developments the administration must move slowly in formulating a definite policy.

WASHINGTON. — Termination of the state of war between this country and Germany by congressional resolution, to be introduced immediately upon the convening of congress, was accepted Tuesday as the definitely settled policy of the Harding administration.

At the conclusion of a day of important administration conferences believed to have gone far toward crystallizing the administration's policy in treating pending treaty problems, Rene Viviani, French envoy, was said to have been frankly informed Monday night by republican members of the senate foreign relations committee that the administration proposed to effect a separate peace with Germany by congressional resolution.

Won't Join League

The former French premier, who discussed the question with the senators at a dinner given in his honor at the home of Senator McCormick of Illinois, was said by senators present also to have been informed that the administration's program did not contemplate entrance by the United States into the league of nations and that it was useless to discuss the possibility of it. At the same time Mr. Viviani was said to have been given renewed assurance that the United States would take no action that would be "helpful" to Germany, especially in the matter of reparations and the fulfilling of other treaty obligations.

The course of the administration in its plans to terminate the state of war with Germany and to deal with world peace questions, it is believed, will be approximately as follows:

Course Outlined

1. Complete rejection of the Versailles peace treaty, including the league covenant.

2. Adoption of the Knox resolution declaring peace.

3. Negotiation of a separate treaty with Germany, settling damage claims and other questions growing out of the war.

To Whom It May Concern:

4. Declaration in the Knox resolution of American intention to co-operate with our chief co-belligerents for mutual defense if the peace of Europe should be threatened by any power or combination of powers.

5. Adoption of a separate resolution declaring that the United States stands with the allied powers [illegible] Germany responsible for the war and bound to make reparation to the full extent of its ability.

6. Negotiation with Great Britain and Japan of an agreement for the reduction of naval armament.

7. Submission to the other powers of suggestions as to the association of nations for the promotion of world peace which the United States would be willing to join in conformity with its traditional policy of non-entanglement in the affairs of Europe.

HOOVER DISCUSSES TRADE CONDITIONS WITH BUSINESSMEN

Development of Means for Expanding American Trade is Subject of Conference

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Development of methods for expanding American trade, both for foreign and domestic, under co-operation between the government and business formed the general purpose Tuesday of the first of a series of conferences between Secretary Hoover and a special committee of five from the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

In addition to a general survey of world trade conditions, the conference today was prepared to take up specifically the matter of appointing committees representing all the great industries of the nation to co-operate with the commerce department in plans for the revival of business in their respective fields.

YOUR VOTE WILL STILL COUNT--THE POLLS ARE OPEN UNTIL 8 O'CLOCK

CITIES ARE URGED TO BEGIN SPRING CLEAN-UP AT ONCE

Starve Out the Fly by Removing Breeding Places is Advice of State Health Board

MADISON, Wis.—A request that cities and villages begin their spring clean-up at once, instead of waiting until far along in April, is made by state board of health, which favors this plan in order to combat the fly nuisance more effectively. Removing the fly's breeding places as early in the season as possible is held equivalent to starving it out. The means recommended follow:

Remove all rubbish and ashes from the cellar, back yard and surroundings.

Keep manure in flytight, covered boxes and remove it at least one a week.

Ventilate damp cellars; clean all windows and open them to fresh air and sunlight.

Have leaky roofs and bad plumbing repaired, and do not tolerate dirty, broken walls and ceilings.

Use plenty of soap, hot water and sunshine.

Clean up the attic and other remote places where flies breed and dust accumulates.

Use the damp broom, the oil mop, and oiled cloths instead of dry sweepings and dustings, which are dangerous practices.

Burn all household rubbish promptly.

Dispose of garbage according to your municipal regulations.

Do not throw paper in any street, park, or back yard. Bale and sell all waste paper.

Don't forget the stagnant pools and ill-smelling refuse piles. They breed flies and mosquitoes, and consequently disease.

Don't let milk bottles stand unwashed after use.

Many municipalities in Wisconsin have adopted the model clean-up ordinance framed by the state board of health. The great majority of communities in this state now have a clean-up week, with marked improvement noticeable in the sanitation of home surroundings.

Danger in Incandescent Lamps

Evidence that the high-power incandescent lamps now so commonly used for street lighting may not be wholly innocent as a possible source of fire was observed in southern California recently, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. A bulb hanging twenty feet above the ground suddenly burst and the white-hot particles of metal it scattered instantly ignited the dry grass at the foot of the pole. Fire wardens of the district are now advocating the use of suitable guards about the lamps.

La Crosse Folks at University

Arne Gorder, a graduate of the university last year who has been doing some instructing in the school of medicine this year in addition to taking graduate work, is sick and confined to the Bradley Memorial hospital where Miss Agnes Reid of La Crosse is a nurse. According to the university doctors, his case showed symptoms of scarlet fever.

Paul T. Tobey, La Crosse normal graduate and federal board student, has filed his papers as a candidate for the office of sophomore representative on the Union board. He is opposed by Rollie Williams and Julien Lunney and other candidacies will probably be announced later. Tobey took part in the federal board production, "The Maid and the Middy."

Competition is being held at the college of agriculture for the choosing of a team of students who will represent the college of agriculture in the livestock judging contests at the International Livestock show next fall. The only representative of La Crosse county in the competition for a place on the judging team is Walter Reget, La Crosse high school graduate and athletic star.

Lake Mendota has been formally opened to student navigation by order of the university officials with the launching of the Cardinal, university patrol boat.

The spring vacation of the university will start a week from this Tuesday night and last for one week. Most of the La Crosse students at Madison will be home for the period although some will remain in Madison to work at local stores. The vacation will be the last long vacation of the school year.

Elsie M. Burkhardt and Maude S. Nels of La Crosse, took the examinations for nurses desiring to be accredited nurses in line for various public health positions in the state. The examinations took place last week. Miss Anne E. Eichenberger of Black River Falls also took the tests.

John M. Holley of La Crosse, a Madison visitor last week, was approached by the Inquiring Reporter of the Wisconsin State Journal for his opinion on the initiative and referendum. He said: "I am absolutely opposed to the initiative and referendum. It gives an opportunity for a minority to upset the whole thing, and a few people would have the power to obstruct the government. The initiative and referendum are inconsistent with the principles of republican representative government. A large country like this can't operate under the principles of pure democracy. Pure democracy in theory is attractive, but we ought to stick to the principles of representative government laid down by the constitution."

Several La Crosse students who will graduate from the university in June have been interviewed by representatives of large concerns who come to the university looking for trained material in certain fields.

The strained industrial situation and the unemployment wave is hitting graduates as hard as other people. There are fewer applications for graduate help this year than there have been for several years. Many people who are planning on graduating are without information as to what they will do when they finish their scholastic work.

Sixty freshmen are reporting regularly to Coach Meinert of La Crosse for daily baseball workouts. The yearlings are weak behind the bat but their pitching staff is strong, according to Meinert. Gordon Reitche who played with the Princeton freshmen last year; Robert Bosworth from Oklahoma university, and Robert Sykes are some of those who look promising for the frosh diamond squad.

George Layman has withdrawn from the university.

The varsity baseball team captained by Alvah Elliott, former La Crosse normal man, will play its first preliminary game this week when it meets Northwestern college at Madison. The lineup of the Badgers is very uncertain. Elliott will undoubtedly start at short stop. The third base job is being disputed between Carson Lyman of Madison who has been on the squad for two years and George Ruediger of Fountain City. Ruediger appears to have the shade for the position.

A large number of La Crosse students heard Dr. Winfield Scott Hall, who has lectured throughout the country for a number of years, when he talked on Sunday at the Luther Memorial church and at the Badger club of the university Y. M. C. A.

Leo W. Alber of La Crosse, passed the recent state examinations and received a master plumber certificate, according to the announcement of the bureau of plumbing and domestic sanitary engineering. There were thirty applicants who received master certificates and nineteen who received journeymen's certificates.

Miss Doris Wager of La Crosse was the guest of friends at Madison for the past week-end. She attended the Beta formal on Friday night.

Several La Crosse people are expected in Madison for this week-end to attend the annual military ball which will be held in the state capitol this year for the first time in the history of the event. A special drill by the president's guard will be a feature of the extra numbers which have been provided. The orchestra platform under the rotunda of the capitol was erected on Tuesday and work started then on the decorations for the second biggest social event of the year at the university and the most important university social function until commencement activities in June get underway.

COLDS GET THE K. O.

NEWARK, N. J.—Newark is riding its colds to death. Fact.

Commuters between Newark and New York cure their colds by riding in the Hudson tubes.

Dr. C. V. Caster, Newark health commissioner, explains it.

"High air pressure in the tubes under the Hudson river does it," he says. "When this compression hits you it knocks out your cold."

All of which is to the displeasure of the bootleggers.

BLAINE MARKETING BILL UP IN ASSEMBLY THURSDAY MORNING

Administration Forces to Fight Attempt to Amend the Measure

MADISON, Wis.—Marketing legislation will barely get under way during the coming week when the assembly takes up the administration bill Thursday morning as a special order of business. Any move to force action on amendments to be offered or on the full bill will result in a call of the house, opposition members have announced, because of the expected absence of a majority of the members throughout the week.

Control over agricultural products and development of farmers' co-operative societies will remain as the outstanding functions of the new marketing department if three suggested amendments to the bill creating it are adopted. They restrict activities of the department to regulation of food production for human and animal consumption.

The trade commission features of the bill would be stricken out under terms of an amendment to be offered by Assemblyman L. J. Pierson of Milwaukee. It is this amendment which strikes out the words "mining" and "fuel" from the bill and limits its extension of powers to consideration of food for human and animal consumption, its production, manufacture and distribution.

With the large trade commission powers removed, the bill will be favored for passage still broad in scope, assemblymen say, but lacking the sections which, in their opinion would embarrass business.

Assemblyman A. E. Matheson of Janesville will re-submit his amendment which would remove the objection to the section which makes all findings of fact conclusive at law, by changing the word conclusive to presumptive. If adopted, this amendment would leave the burden of proof on the defendant, but would not entirely close the doors to a judicial review of fact.

The third amendment to be offered by Assemblyban L. H. Cook of Marathon, lowers the appropriation from $125,000 to $75,000. It was felt by assemblymen that with the restriction of powers of the department a smaller appropriation would be sufficient.

20 YEARS' BURDEN

British Treasury Official Sees It Ahead of Public

LONDON. — Englishmen cannot have any relief from present high taxation for at least 20 years, says James Parker, junior lord of the treasury.

"National debts and expenditures are very hard to get down," says Parker. "In the 100-year period from the battle of Waterloo up to 1914, Britain's national debt had been reduced only three-tenths.

"We live in speedier times, and our capacity for reducing debt with our enormously increased productive power is much greater, but it is just as well to face facts."

Parker thinks that the cost of running the British government during the next decade will be at least $5,000,000,000 a year.

Strange Experience

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head and ear noises or are growing hard of hearing go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it 1-4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

Resinol relieves dandruff

Dandruff is one of the most frequent causes of baldness and too much care cannot be exercised in getting rid of it. The Resinol treatment is an easy method. Shampoo with Resinol Soap working the lather well into the roots of the hair. Rinse thoroughly and when wholly dry spread the hair apart and gently rub into the scalp a little Resinol Ointment. If carefully done little Ointment will get on the hair. Resinol Soap and Ointment at all druggists.

What of the Negro?

WE like to think of this country as the world's greatest national example of freedom, liberality and humanity. So, in many respects, it undoubtedly is. But now and then there arises an episode that draws back the curtain of silence over some phase of our national life and reveals behind the smiling face of our civilization an ugly and shameless brutality. Nowhere is this trace of barbarity so frequently revealed as in the relations between white men and negroes. Just now decent people are shocked by the revelations of a "peonage farm" in Georgia, where eleven negroes have been murdered on one pretext or another by a white proprietor and his black overseer; it is an outrage which ranks with even the grim atrocities of slavery days. Indeed, it seems to have been a case of slavery, in all essentials except the name. And the horror of it is that it seems to have been merely an aggravated instance of abuse of a custom and method that is, in many southern states, a perfectly legal form of human servitude.

For these eleven negroes, dispatches say, were obtained for work on the murder plantation by "buying them out" of jail. It is permitted by law that an employer in need of labor may pay the fines of negroes imprisoned for minor offenses, and put them to work until their fines are worked out. In the case now under investigation and in many others, according to report, the negro so "bought out" for a lonely plantation out of reach of the authorities is practically sold into slavery for so long as armed watchmen can prevent his escape. As the black overseer testified against his master in his appearance before the grand jury at Covington, "it wouldn't do to let all these niggers get back to Atlanta. They knew too much." Hence not only slavery but murder.

The treatment of the negro by the white man since the civil war has forced upon this country a racial, economic and political question of the gravest moment. So long as the negro was always ignorant and afraid abuses went unchecked and unpunished. But there is growing up among the black race a new leadership with a certain amount of education and shrewdness and with the inspiration of a great and terrible bitterness, legacy of the abuse and cruelty suffered by its fathers. Rapidly the negro in the United States is becoming articulate, united and resentful of his historic and contemporary wrongs. Under vengeful leadership the ignorance and simplicity of the average negro may easily be driven to startling and dangerous lengths. And the country, by its complacent disregard of those who abuse and exploit the negro, is doing all that it can to insure that negro leadership shall be vengeful. It is time that we took stock of this situation; time that we wiped out the unfair legislation that permits the abuses; time that the clean and wholesome and humane majority of the American people should look about them and clean up the dark and dirty corners in our house of justice which we have been heretofore too busy to notice. Else we are likely to find our house sadly shaken.

Perhaps the south is the worst offender, but perhaps, again, that is chiefly because the south has more opportunity through having more negroes. One finds it difficult to lay the whole indictment against the south in view of the bitter race riots of the last few years in Omaha, in Springfield, in Chicago. This is a problem for the whole country, and the sooner we set about the solving of it, the better for the republic.

The Radium Woman

IN May, America will be visited by one of the world's most remarkable women and its greatest woman scientist—Marie Curie, 54 years old. She, with her husband, discovered radium, used in cancer treatment and for researches in higher science. Although she was one of the discoverers of radium, Madame Curie has none herself for experimental purposes. So American women are going to present her with a gram, worth $120,000, when she arrives. It will be contained in a tube the size of the lead of a large pencil, about an inch long.

Madame Curie is Polish. She teaches at the Sorbonne university, Paris, with nothing except her salary as teacher to depend upon, for unselfishly she did not patent her discovery but gave it to humanity. The things in America that Madame Curie desires most to see are the Grand Canyon and the Pittsburgh plant where radium is manufactured commercially. The Pittsburgh plant produces radium by refining ore from southeastern Colorado. Its output for the entire year 1920 was about eighteen thimblefuls—but it was worth $2,160,000.

Largely this was used for medical work, but you can thank Madame Curie when you tell time at night by a radium-illuminated watch dial, when you hit the radium-illuminated keyhole with your key, or when you snap on an electric light by the means of the radium-illuminated switch button that shines in the dark like a lighthouse lantern on a black and stormy night.

Madame Curie, remarkable scientist, the country welcomes you!

It's an Ill Wind That—

ENGLAND has another coal strike on her hands. To attempt to curb it, the British government declares a "state of emergency." The miners demand continuance of their present wage scale, made possible only by subsidy under the government control of the mines, which ended April 1. They also demand that the mine owners lower their prices. The operators say they can't lower prices without cutting wages. This trouble has been brewing for several years.

Coal is England's very backbone. Her output last year was 228,000,000 tons. This kept her independent of other fuel-supplying countries. Also it gave her a big coal export trade, more than 2,000,000 tons a month, and control of much of the world's ocean bunkerage—supplying ships with coal in far ports. But now American coal is being delivered in London at lower prices than coal from the Welsh mines. We undersell British coal all over the world.

Regardless of the outcome of the British coal situation, the American coal trade will benefit—if operators and miners co-operate to increase production and exploit our export opportunities. If the British mines close down for any length of time, it'll stimulate our coal exports. That would start up many American mines, now idle. The American miner digs an average of 1,134 tons of coal a year. The British miner produces only 814 tons a year. Give the American miner steady work and he'll lick the world.

But if our coal exports suddenly boom, the government in Washington should keep a close eye and be prepared to take any necessary measures to protect the American people against sudden kiting of domestic coal prices, for which export demand might be the alibi.

In Ye Olden Times

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

In an election accompanied by a surprising reversal of precinct majorities John Dengler, republican, was elected mayor of La Crosse by a 200 vote plurality over Ori Sorensen, democrat. All of the democratic city ticket except mayor and Edward Cronon for police justice were elected by pluralities ranging from 150 to 925.

John Rau, Sr., former city treasurer and for fourteen years a member of the city council, died at the home of his son, John Rau, Jr., 1009 State street, this morning. He was 83 years old and had lived in La Crosse since 1867.

Yesterday morning as the switch engine was backing a string of loaded coal gondolas onto a sidetrack in the Milwaukee yards at North La Crosse, three of the gondolas were overturned and the contents, 225 tons of freight, were scattered in a hopeless confusion over the surrounding tracks. The upset was due to the light rails of which the track is composed, which were not sufficiently well fastened to support the weight of the loaded gondolas and they turned over under the strain.

The Misses Dorothy and Ellen Hixon returned yesterday from New York where they are attending school.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Richard Remp, who graduated from the local high school a year ago and who is now a student at the University of Wisconsin, arrived in the city this morning to solicit funds to defray the expenses of sending the varsity and freshman crews this year to compete with the crews of all the big eastern colleges in the annual inter-collegiate boat race. About $7,000 will be needed of which La Crosse is expected to contribute $1,000.

Contractors in charge of the construction work on the new telephone line which the Wisconsin Telephone company is building from Eau Claire to La Crosse report that the line will be finished as far as Holmen by June 1. The circuit will not be completed until November.

According to present arrangements the formal opening of the new school at Sixteenth and Vine streets will take place next Monday morning. There will be a short session of school before the building will be thrown open to the public. Then there will be exercises at which the common council and the board of education will be present.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Edward Thorsen is erecting a store building at 1823 George street.

Nels Wammer has sold his house at 1329 Avon street and will take his family to Seattle, Wash., where he has secured a position in a lumber yard.

The old building on Mill street, which constituted the first grocery store in North La Crosse and which was built in 1861 by a man named Apsey, has been condemned by city officials and must be torn down.

Last night about 8 o'clock the watchman at the P. S. Davidson lumber yard discovered fire in a pile of edgings near the dividing line between the Davidson and La Crosse Lumber company's yards. Simultaneously another fire broke out in a pile of shingle blocks. It took several hours to get the fire under control. It is thought the fire originated in a spark dropped along the roadway.

A Man For the Ages

Irving Bacheller

As she spoke, the stairway door opened and Bim entered the room—in a silk gown and slippers. Sorrow had put its mark upon her face, but had not extinguished her beauty. All rose from the table. Harry walked toward her. She advanced to meet him. Face to face, they stopped and looked into each other's eyes. The moment long desired, the moment endeared and sublimated by the dreams of both, the moment toward which their thoughts had been wont to hasten, after the cares of the day, like brooks coming down from the mountains, had arrived suddenly. She was in a way prepared for it. She had taken thought of what she would do and say. He had not. Still it made no difference. This little point of time had been so filled with the power which had flowed into it out of their souls there was no foretelling what they would do when it touched them. Scarcely a second of that moment was wasted in hesitation, as a matter of fact. Quickly they fell into each other's embrace, and the depth of their feeling we may guess when we read in the diary of the rugged and rather stoical Samson that no witness of the scene spoke or moved "until I turned my back upon it for shame of my tears."

Soon Bim came and kissed Samson's cheek and said:

"I am not going to make trouble. I couldn't help this. I heard what he said to you last night. It made me happy in spite of all my troubles. I love him but above all I shall try to keep his heart as clean and noble as it has always been. I really meant to be very strong and upright. It is all over now. Forgive us. We are going to be as respectable as—as we can."

Samson pressed her hand and said:

"You came with the slaves and I guess you heard our talk in the wagon."

"Yes, I came with the slaves, and was as black as either of them. We had all suffered. I should have come alone, but they had been good and faithful to me. I could not bear to leave them to endure the violence of that man. We left together one night when he was in a drunken stupor. We took a boat to Alton and caught The Star of the North to Beardstown—they traveling as my servants. There I hired a team and wagon. It brought us to the grove near your house."

"Why did you disguise yourself before you came in?"

"I longed to see Harry, but I did not want him to see me. I did not know that he would care to see me," she answered. "I longed to see all of you."

"Isn't that like Bim?" Samson asked.

"I am no longer the fool I was," she answered. "It was not just a romantic notion. I wanted to share the lot of a runaway slave for a few days and know what it means. That mulatto—Roger Wentworth—and his wife are as good as I am, but I have seen them kicked and beaten like dogs. I know slavery now and all the days of my life I am going to fight against it. Now I am ready to go to my father's house—like the Prodigal Son coming back after his folly."

"But you will have some dinner first," said Mrs. Brimstead.

"No, I can not wait—I will walk. It is not far to Hopedale."

"Percy is at the door now with his buggy," said Brimstead.

Bim kissed Samson's cheek and embraced Annabel and her mother and hurried out of the house. Harry carried her bag to the buggy and helped her in.

"Harry, I want you to fall in love with this pretty girl," she said. "Don't you dare think of me any more or come near me. If you do, I'll shoo you away. Go on, Percy."

She waved her hand as the buggy went up the road.

"It's the same old Bim," Harry said to himself, as he stood watching her. "But I think she's lovelier than she ever was."

The next day Samson wrote in his diary:

"Bim was handsomer, but different. She had a woman's beauty. I noticed her loose clothes and that gentle look in her face that used to come to Sarah's when her time was about half over. I am glad she got away before she was further along."

CHAPTER XV

Wherein Harry and Abe Ride Up to Springdale and Visit Kelso's and Learn of the Curious Lonesomeness of Eliphalet Biggs.

Illinois was growing. In June scores of prairie schooners, loaded with old and young, rattled over the plains from the east. There were many Yankees from Ohio, New York and New England in this long caravan. There were almost as many Irish, who had set out for this land of golden promise as soon as they had been able to save money for a team and wagon, after reaching the new world. There were some Germans and Scandinavians in the dust clouds of the National road. Steamers on the Illinois river scattered their living freight along its shores. These were largely from Kentucky, southern Ohio, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia. The call of the rich and kindly lands had traveled far and streams of life were making toward them, to flow with increasing speed and volume for many years.

HEAVY STICKS WERE ONLY TOOLS BOY USED TO MAKE HIS GARDEN

(Second day of "Backyard Gardening")

When the writer first undertook to cultivate a "kitchen garden" the only tools he used after the ground had been broken with the spade, were several heavy sticks of wood. They served very well for the plot being worked was only 6 feet square.

You may want a more extensive outfit. The tools that are generally the most useful are a spade—many prefer the forked spade—a hoe, a rake, a trowel such as masons use or one made especially for gardners, a strong basket in which to carry your tools and produce to and from the house, a watering can, a ball of heavy cord, a few stakes to use as "markers" of the various patches, and a pair of gloves.

All these things are not necessary, but every article is useful. Many of them may be found around the house, but some, perhaps, you will have to buy. If so, don't waste your money on the flimsy, weak articles often seen on the market nowadays. They won't stand the wear and tear. Your hardware man will help you choose the cheapest and best.

"Take good care o' yer tools, son," advised an old hand at gardening when the writer bought his first spade and hoe. "Keep them well cleaned, not with water for that rusts them, but by rubbing off the fresh dirt with the hand. A bit of dried dirt on the handle of a hoe has caused many a painful blister.

On the handle of the hoe or rake mark off the various distances you will use in laying out the garden, especially in spacing the rows—6 inches, one foot, etc.

After you have broken the ground with the spade, allow it to stand in its rough shape for several days, preferably till after a rain fall. Then when the ground has dried, get out your rake and smooth the plot over. Break all the lumps into fine particles, and level the garden as well as you can. Everything is then all set for the seeds.

HY-JYNKX DAY MEANS A BIG TIME IN SCHOOL

Great things took place in Sacramento High School, Sacramento, Cal., when the Seniors of the school staged their Hy-Jynkx Day recently. "Hy-Jynkx Day" is merely another name for Stunt Day.

On this occasion every class in school is given fifteen minutes to put on some kind of a stunt for the other students. A special prize is awarded the class which gets the best results from its efforts.

BOYHOOD STORIES OF FAMOUS MEN

Edmund Clarence Stedman

A young and beautiful mother sat in her bedroom, sobbing as though her heart would break.

In the adjoining room her father was giving her small son a spanking which could be heard throughout the house, and the poor mother wept for her boy. But the youth was stubborn; not a cry did he utter.

Under the pain of an unusually hard crack, however, he rebelled, and raised his head, bringing it up with such force that he knocked the spectacles off the old gentleman's nose and broke them into a dozen pieces.

This boy's nature was a happy one. His only sad moments were those in which he was punished for some prank.

Edmund Stedman's joy expressed itself in verse and he is known as one of America's foremost poets.

THE FAMILY ALBUM

Introducing Yourself

BY DR. WILLIAM E. BARTON

There is a person whom I should like to have you meet, and whom I desire the pleasure of introducing to you. That person is yourself. Please take a good look at yourself in the glass, and make your best bows.

Socrates asked you to be acquainted with this person, and so did Pope, and so did many other distinguished people. I regret that you do not know yourself as well as you ought. There are many men of whom W. E. Eagan might have written:

"He reads the books which all the wise men write;
He searched the world for knowledge, not for pelf;
He thought no man unknown, so keen his wit,
But once he met a stranger—'twas himself."

This stranger to whom I introduce you is well worth your knowing. You know him but superficially. Much that is best in him you do not know. You are familiar with the commonplace details of his life, but do not sufficiently recognize his aspirations, his worthier purposes, his real and true nature.

I once said to a stern man:

"I expect to live longer than you, and to conduct your funeral service. I am going to tell people that you are a fraud."

He started to be angry, then stopped, for he felt sure that I had not meant it unkindly. I went on:

"You have bluffed your way through life, concealing all that is best in you, and everywhere putting your worst foot foremost. You have tried to act as if you were hard-hearted, and have acted as if you were ashamed of all that you have most reason to be proud of. I know that you have a very tender heart."

His eyes filled with tears, and he said—

"Boy, boy! How did you find that out?"

"I only wish he had found it out earlier. I wish all men would discover their own best selves. They live such crabbed, narrow, mean and fretful lives, strangling their better selves.

Stand up and make a bow to your best self, and sit over and make more room for him. He deserves it.

MILLIE IKERT AND FRED WROBEL ARE MARRIED SATURDAY

AT THE PARSONAGE of the Mormon Coulee German Reformed church Saturday, April 2, the Rev. Henry Andreas united in marriage Millie Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Ikert, and Mr. Fred Rudolph Wrobel. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Florence Ikert, and Mr. Edward Wrobel, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man.

Following the ceremony the bridal party returned to the home of the bride's parents, 1612 Denton street, where a reception was held. Places were laid for forty at the bridal supper. The table was prettily decorated with roses, carnations, sweet peas and lillies of the valley and was centered by the bride's cake which was heart shaped decked with waxen angels holding orange blossoms. The rooms were made attractive with a color scheme of pink and white.

The bride wore a gown of white satin, veiled in georgette with bead trimming. She wore a long bridal veil with orange blossoms and sweet peas and she carried a shower of roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid wore pink georgette and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

The bride received many handsome gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Wrobel will leave in a few days for Viroqua, where they will reside.

"MILK WARS" CAUSE OF DROP IN PRICES SAYS MARKET BUREAU

MADISON, Wis.—"Milk wars" in some cities of the state have featured the dairy business of Wisconsin during the past month and are the reasons for the continued drop in prices paid farmers for milk, the market division reports in a news letter issued this week. The average price paid in March was $2.45 per hundred pounds as compared to $2.58 in February, it was shown.

Superior continued to pay the highest price for its milk and Madison the lowest, the difference in price being $1 per hundred pounds. Madison consumers pay 4 cents a quart less than do Superior consumers, the report states. The average city price to consumers in the state dropped from 11.7 cents in February to 11.1 cents in March.

SIELCKEN HEIRS TO GET PROPERTY TAKEN BY U. S. DURING WAR

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The attorney general has authorized return to the heirs of Herman Sielcken of New York, property valued at approximately $3,000,000 seized by the alien property custodian during the war. At the same time the return to his widow of her own property valued at about $1,000,000 was ordered. Both properties, it was said, consisted mainly of securities.

The seizure of Sielcken's property was ordered, it was explained, because Sielcken, who was German born, was unable to prove American citizenship. Evidence was produced after his death to show he was naturalized in San Francisco, but lost his citizenship papers when shipwrecked on a voyage from South America.

O'Donnell, all well-known local attorneys. Judge James E. Tully declined to be a candidate for re-election.

MISSIONARY HERE SPEAKS TONIGHT AT METHODIST CHURCH

Rev. Judson Perkins to Give Address at West Avenue Methodist Church

The Rev. Judson T. Perkins of Jagdalpur, Central Provinces, India, who has spent eight and one-half years as a missionary under the Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist Episcopal church, is making a tour of the West Wisconsin conference in the interest of the work of the Foreign Mission board of the church. He spoke at the First church on Sunday and Caledonia St. church Monday night and will speak at the West Avenue Methodist church at 7:30 this evening.

Mr. Perkins is meeting with considerable success in securing enlistments for Life Service in religious work. He is not calling for funds at this time but is urging the regular payment of the subscriptions to Methodism's great Centenary fund. He said last night that the Centenary had made it possible for the Methodist church to spend almost three times as much for Foreign Missionary work in the year 1920 as they had spent in any one year in the history of the church previously. Last year 275 missionaries were sent out to the foreign field. The average per year for the ten years previous had only been 72.

He told of having seen men lying on beds of spikes, walking on shoes of spikes and of one man who had held his hand above his head so long that the flesh had withered away and he had lost the power of using it. The hand had clenched so that one finger nail had grown through the palm of the hand and stuck out an inch and a half from the back of the hand. He also told of having come within four feet of running over a Bengal tiger with an automobile in December, 1919.

He is a very interesting speaker and anyone interested in India will enjoy hearing him.

MICHIGAN APPROVES SOLDIER BONUS BY THREE TO ONE VOTE

DETROIT, Mich.—Michigan voters approved a soldiers' bonus and gave republican candidates for minor state offices the usual heavy majority in yesterday's election, reports from approximately one-fourth of the precincts of the state indicated early Tuesday. The republican vote and that favoring the bonus was about three to one in the 700 precincts reporting.

The traction problem was again before Detroit voters. A service at cost proposal put forward by the privately owned system received but 40 per cent of the vote in 500 of the 553 precincts while a proposal by the city council that the municipal traction system be enlarged by purchase of eight lines now operated by private owners, received 65 per cent of the vote reported. Both issues required sixty per cent to carry.

CAPITOL IS DESERTED

Legislators Take Advantage of Opportunity of spending Week at Home

MADISON, Wis. — Legislators en masse have left Madison for the recess permitted this week and the senate and assembly chambers are deserted for the first time this session. Scarcely a sign of life is evident where the usual center of activity in the capitol is to be found.

The opportunity to spend the week at home has appealed to the members of both houses. Many of the farmer members are getting their spring work under way at home and are not expected back until next Tuesday or Wednesday when business is resumed in earnest again.

It is expected that this recess will settle the attitude of many of the members on important legislative proposals, when they come to talk over matters with their constituents.

THIRTY LIVES LOST IN TERRIFIC STORM IN JAPAN SUNDAY

Property Damage is Heavy; Steamers Driven Ashore in Harbor of Yokohama

TOKIO.—(By the Associated Press.)—Great property damage was done and thirty lives were lost in a terrific storm which swept the southern coast of Japan on Sunday night. Telephone and telegraph lines are prostrated throughout the southern part of the empire. Tokio is still in darkness and a number of houses were destroyed there.

The storm was especially severe in the harbor of Yokohama. The Japanese steamers Alabama Maru and Atlas Maru dragged their anchors and went ashore. The former vessel was about to sail for Seattle and had her passengers aboard.

Dispatches report inundation in many provinces and it is said many houses were demolished. Eight workmen were buried when a tunnel collapsed near Fukushima. A naval cutter capsized near the port of Nagoya and an officer and eight bluejackets were drowned. The famous bridge across the Tenryu river was destroyed.

The American steamer Golden State successfully weathered the gale and arrived here yesterday. There were numerous receptions given her officers and men, the return of American shipping to the Pacific being welcomed by officials at Yokohama.

"HUMANE SUNDAY"

April 17 is Urged as Day to Be Devoted to Kindness to Animals

ALBANY, N. Y.—Observance of "Humane Sunday" on April 17, bringing to a close a week devoted to kindness to animals, is urged by the American Humane association from its headquarters in this city.

"No special observance has more ready claim upon the attention of clergymen, irrespective of church affiliation, than that of Humane Sunday," the society says in its announcement.

"It has back of it no mercenary motive; it does not seek to finance any local or national institutions, no matter how commendable may be their purpose or valuable their work. The friends of the child and the animal seek simply to have sermons preached on the occasion throughout American pulpits on the general subject of mercy and kindness. These are fundamental religious doctrines that need repeated emphasis."

The week of April 11 to 16 has been designated by the association as "Be Kind to Animals Week." It proposes a program, starting with Monday as "Club day," Tuesday "Pet Animal day," Wednesday "Benefit day," Thursday "Red Star day," Friday "School day," and Saturday "Boy Scout day."

Pet animal shows, public exhibits of bird houses made in bird house building contests, and planting of trees to commemorate the work of humanitarians, are among the association's ideas for the week.

EVERY TIME YOU EAT AN ORANGE

Culls

Northern People
The Peach Raisers

AN EDITORIAL ON ADVERTISING

Amid the citrus fruit groves of this country are located hundreds of co-operative packing houses. In each of these it is a fixed rule that all "cull" oranges and grapefruit must be discarded from outgoing shipments.

"Cull" fruits are ones so deficient in eating or keeping qualities that they fail to give satisfaction in the homes of consumers. Most of them would rot on the way to market, or at least reach destination points with a heavy percentage of decay.

In many of the packing houses of the co-operating growers the importance of close and careful grading is emphasized by large signs in full view of all employes, worded substantially as follows:

"All 'culls' must be eliminated; every doubtful orange or grapefruit is a 'cull.'"

There are thrown aside not merely the fruits that are clearly unfit for shipment, but all the oranges or grapefruit about the quality of which doubt may exist. When a carload moves toward a consuming centre it contains only fruit that gives evidence of the elements that will carry it through with a minimum of loss by decay and assure ultimate buyers full value for teir money.

There is a loss to the grower on every "cull" orange or grapefruit; it costs money to have them picked out and destroyed. Formerly it was the custom to pack and ship everything as the crops came from the grove, poor fruits along with the good. Why has there been adopted the policy of selection? What is the reason for all care and precaution to prevent the shipment of inferior fruits?

Advertising is the answer to these questions. The citrus growers who co-operate in the marketing of their products, to avoid the speculation in them, which means unfair prices to consumers are liberal advertisers. Long ago they found that the use of printers' ink was necessary in order properly to inform the people of the North as to the food and health values of good oranges and grapefruit. So they adopted a trade-name—suggestive of inner goodness—and have since offered their fruits to the public under this identifying mark.

The representations as to quality made in citrus fruit advertising could not be sustained if "cull" oranges and grapefruit were permitted to go on the markets under the trade-marked brand. Originally decided upon by growers, perhaps as the most economical means of getting information regarding the product of their groves before the housekeepers of the nation, advertising has become a bulwark of protection for consumers of citrus fruits. It is because they are advertised that the oranges and grapefruit shipped by members include none of the "culls" which would prove so disappointing to buyers.

Exactly the same principles and policies govern the operations of another great co-operative organization engaged in the handling of citrus fruits from another section of the country. Indeed, by reason of greater age and correspondingly larger volume of business, this organization has been enabled to confine its trade-name to the better grades of oranges, lemons and grapefruit produced by its members. Consumers who buy these trade-marked fruits, therefore, are assured of the most select specimens from the golden groves. In this instance, advertising both protects the public as to quality and gives it a key for buying along the lines of higher quality.

Numerous other co-operative organizations of the producers of perishable food products are advertising and in every case there has been adopted ways and means whereby consumers are protected against inferior goods, which would lessen the reputation of the line. Instances in point are found among the almond growers, the apricot growers, the peach growers, the prune growers, the raisin growers and the walnut growers of California. Several bodies of northwestern apple orchardists the peach raisers of Georgia, and growers of fruits, melons, nuts and vegetables elsewhere are maintaining quality in substantiation of advertised claims. Almost without exception, the fact that a perishable is advertised means that producers offer to consumers only produce of dependable quality.

In nine cases out of ten, when farmers and fruit growers advertise, this fact also may be taken to mean that they are striving to eliminate speculation from the handling of their products. In so far as this end is accomplished, the law of supply and demand has opportunity to function. With the older and stronger cooperative marketing bodies the effort to get rid of the speculators has been successful. Trade-marked citrus fruits are sold direct by the growers in carload lots, the wholesale houses in turn frunishing supplies to retail dealers as needed. The supply of these advertised brands of oranges, lemons, grapefruit, etc and the demands therefore absolutely determine the prices at which they can be bought from day to day.

This is only another illustration of the advantages to readers in following advertising closely and constantly. It is their strong protection against questionable quality and unfair prices in every line of marketable merchandise. It means giving greater purchasing power to every dollar spent and receiving satisfaction with every purchase.

RATE REDUCTIONS ON ROAD MATERIAL ASKED OF ROADS

Emergency Order Will be Issued if Railroads Refuse, Says Rate Commission

MADISON, Wis.—Steps were taken Tuesday to secure reductions from 15 to 35 per cent on shipments of sand, gravel and crushed stone, in order that highway work might be pushed in Wisconsin during the coming summer, in a request sent by the railway commission to all of the railroads operating in the state.

Should the request be refused, the railroad commission has let it be known that it will call an immediate hearing, as an emergency case, and issue a formal order directing the railroads to comply. Freight rates are at such a level that prices on aggregates for road construction are prohibitive the highway commission has announced.

During the past week the railroad commission and the Wisconsin Mineral Aggregate association have held several conferences over the situation. It developed that rates on shipment of sand and gravel were so high that construction of all sorts was being hampered.

Necessity for retduced rates was shown to exist, especially at Green Bay, Milwaukee, Madison, Marshfield, Arpin, Stevens Point and Plover.

PEASE AT EARLY DATE IS COURSE TO BE PURSUED

and of preservation of independence of action.

Peace at an Early Date

Following a series of extended conferences between President Harding, Senator Knox, Senator Lodge, Rene Viviani envoy extraordinary of the French government, and others, it has become definitely settled that the Knox peace resolution will be introduced in the senate immediately upon the reconvening of congress and will be pushed to a vote at the earliest possible date.

The resolution will be amended in one important particular. There will be a new section added to serve notice upon the world that the United States stands ready to fight whenever in the judgment of this government the civilization of the world is imperiled.

Warning to Potential Kaisers

This new section will read:

"That, finally, it shall be the declared policy of our government, in order to meet fully and fairly our obligations to ourselves and to the world, that the freedom and peace of Europe being again threatened by any power or combination of powers, the United States will regard such situation with grave concern as a menace to its own peace and freedom, will consult with other powers affected, with a view to devising means for the removal of such menace, and will, the necessity arising in the future, carry out the same complete accord and co-operation with our chief co-belligerents for the defense of civilization."

It has been proposed that the resolution be further amended to express the attitude of the administration with regard to German reparations. Such a suggestion was put forward by France.

Viviani Now Satisfied

It was learned, however, that M. Viviani has been satisfied by Senator Knox that such a declaration would add nothing to the firmness of the administration's policy and that, if such action becomes necessary, it might be taken in a separate resolution.

M. Viviani, to senators, during the last few days, has expressed satisfaction with the peace program. He is convinced beyond a shadow of a doubt, it was stated, that America is determined to remain aloof from the entanglements of the Versailles pact; but he is pleased to note the almost universal feeling in Washington that Germany shall not escape just punishment for precipitating the war.

Sought Public Opinion

WASHINGTON. — Rene Viviani, former premier of France, in a statement Tuesday to the Associated Press, said the purpose of his visit to the United States was to sound public opinion in America and inform the American people of conditions in France.

The French envoy expressed gratification at the sentiment favorable to France he had observed in conferences with leading public officials about the "legal and political discussions which involved the treaty of peace."

The statement of the former French premier was the first he has made since his arrival in the United States in which the purposes of his mission was set forth. In connection with his conferences here, M. Viviani said he had authorized no one to state conclusions he had drawn, presumably having reference to dispatches published abroad purporting to outline his views.

Wicked and Dull

The American sailors who have had the opportunity of visiting Constantinople say it is the wickedest city in the world and the dullest of all large cities. The place is infested with all kinds of thieves, refugees and tricksters, but there is nothing in the way of diversion or amusement. One sailor said that at 10 o'clock at night the place was as "quiet as Annapolis on Sunday."

Added to the "Mayflower's" List

The name of Richard More has been officially added to the list of the passengers of the Mayflower. He came over as a boy of ten years under the care of Elder William Brewster and after landing at Plymouth, went to Salem, where he lived and died at the age of 84. He was buried in the Charter Street Cemetery in Salem, and his gravestone is the only known memorial to a Mayflower passenger erected at the time of his death.

TICKETS FOR Y. W. REPORTED SELLING LIKE "HOT CAKES"

Packed Houses Expected to Witness Entertainment at Theater Next Week

Tickets for the Y. W. C. A. Spring Fete are going like the proverbial "hot cakes", according to reports brought into the association by committees who are canvassing the city with tickets, and present indications are that packed houses will greet the association girls in their entertainment. The dates are Tuesday and Wednesday, April 12 and 13, and the La Crosse Theater has been secured for the event. Reservations can be made at the theater box office Friday morning, and in the meantime orders for reservations may be mailed to the theater.

MARIONETTES COME ON APRIL NINTH

Lilliam Owen's Marionettes' visit to La Crosse on April 9th, brings to mind an interesting incident in the history of the marionette theatre. This episode is reported by Miss Anne Stoddard in a recent number of the century magazine.

"A playbill, dating from early days in the reign of Queen Anne calls attention to a play produced by the marionettes which had a tremendous vogue, staged with display of costumes and decorations, called 'The Universal Deluge,' in five acts, with a scene showing the entrance of Noah and his family into the ark, accompanied by all the animals, two and two, a drama of the young Mr. Powell.

"This young Mr. Powell became a thorn in the evangelist flesh. His marionettes, installed opposite the Cathedral of St. Paul, proved so alluring that worshippers turned in at his door instead of going to church. Indeed, Mr. Powell becames so impudent with success that he timed his performance for the same hour as the sermon, and availed himself of the church-bell as a summons to his entertainment. Here is the sextons' letter of remonstrance, preserved in the Spectator (No. XVI):

"'Sir—I have been for twenty years under-sexton of this parish of St. Paul's Convent Garden, and have not missed tolling in to prayers six times in all those years; which office I have performed to my great satisfaction, until this fortnight last past, during which time I find my congregation taking the warning of my bell, morning and evening to go to a puppet show set forth by one Mr. Powell under the Piazzas. By this means I have not only lost my two customers whom I used to place for sixpence apiece over against Mrs. Rachel Eyebright, but Mrs. Eyebright has gone thither also. I desire that you would lay this before the wrold, that I may not be made such a tool for the future, and that punchinello may choose hours less canonical. As things are now, Mr. Powell has a full congregation while we have a very thin house; which if you can remedy, you will very much oblige, Sir, yours, etc.'"

Floating Crematory for Japan

Japan will soon have a floating crematory system. Two boats of 150 tons each are now under way which will have accommodations for handling thirty bodies at one time and it is proposed to have these boats stationed at convenient points and after the usual funeral ceremonies, the boats will move out to a point about seven miles from the shore where the cremation will take place.

Accidental Death at 138 Years

Philip Lefthand, a Digger Indian living in the Sierra Nevadas, died recently from burns by his clothing catching fire from the pipe he was smoking. While there is no official record of his age he claimed to be 138 years.

Buying on a Falling Market

On a falling market men and women buy prudently. Whether they wish to purchase a pound of prunes or a million-dollar estate they are inclined to shop 'round a bit before investing.

In times like these they read newspaper advertising closely. It is their market barometer.

It tells them what the shifts and changes are in the world of merchandise. It tells of the new things that will better supply old needs.

It tells of the new devices to raise the efficiency of store, office or home.

It helps them to true thrift—the spending of their money wisely.

Newspaper advertising, always read, is read more carefully and generally today than ever before.

Newspaper advertisers are getting results, because it is to the newspapers that people with money to spend are looking for advice.

INTEREST IN STATE ELECTIONS CENTERS IN SCHOOL CONTEST

Cary and Callahan Out for Superintendency; Vinje Unopposed for Judgeship

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Interest in Wisconsin's judicial election Tuesday centered principally in the contest for state superintendency of schools between C. P. Cary, incumbent, and John Callahan.

A. J. Vinje, for justice of the supreme court, has no opposition.

A circuit, county and three judges of the civil court are being voted for in Milwaukee county, as well as one alderman at large in the city, five school directors for a full term and one for an unexpired term. A county superintendent of schools for Milwaukee also is being voted for.

While all candidates are running on Nonpartisan tickets it is known that six out of the twelve candidates for school directors are socialists.

J. J. Gregory, judge of Branch 3 of the circuit court, is opposed by J. C. Kleist, socialist, but both are running on the Nonpartisan ticket.

The question of daylight saving is among several measures also being voted upon in Milwaukee. If the proposal receives a majority vote in its favor the common council will enact an ordinance putting the plan in effect at once.

The weather was fair and warm at the start and indications pointed to a fair sized vote.

POWER COMPANY IS SEEKING APPROVAL TO DAM CHIPPEWA

Wisconsin-Minnesota Company Would Impound Waters on Indian Tribal Lands

SPARTA, Wis.—The Wisconsin-Minnesota Light and Power Company, in seeking a federal permit to build a dam on the Chippewa River, becomes the first Wisconsin corporation to apply to the government under the ederal Water Power Act. The circumstance that brings about the necessity of asking a permit from the Government Water Power Commission, is that the construction of a dam on the Chippewa would cause water to over flow 208 acres of tribal land in Sawyer County. It would necessitate the moving of twenty homes and one church from the Indian reservation, know as the Lac Court Oreilles.

If the permit is granted, the Wis. Minn. Light and Power company will construct a reservoir, to be known as the Chippewa Reservoir, that would be the largest in the state, and would cost approximately $700,000.

It would store twelve million cubic feet, during the flood periods, and would provide a steady flow for the ten or more dams down the stream. Three of the dams already in use, are operated by the Wis. Minn. Light and Power Company at Wissota, The Eau Claire Dells Pulp Improvement Company, and the Cornell Wood Products Company at Cornell.

Connelly, chancellor of the diocese, is left the bulk of the late prelate's estate. In a private memorandum left for the guidance of his executors he designates the disposition of certain funds for Catholic educational purposes. Personal legacies ranging from $2,000 to Bishop Corrigan down to $100 for the servants of his household also were specified in the memorandum.

CORUNNA, Mich.—Regardless of the outcome of the coroner's inquest Tuesday into the death of Lucy Whittum, Prosecutor Matthews announced that Forest Higgins would be arraigned on a charge of murdering the girl, whose body was found last Thursday and who, Higgins has stated, took her life because she believed he was about to break off their engagement.

At the arraignment which was set to follow the inquest, Higgins it was announced, would plead not guilty and demand examination.

POWER LINE SOUGHT FROM VIROQUA TO SPARTA; COST $90,000

VIROQUA, Wis.—The Standard Oil company will soon begin the construction of a filling station on their lot, located on Main street, directly opposite the Brown Music store. The building will be of brick and concrete. Concrete driveways, ornamental electric lamps, beautiful grounds, with flowers and foliage and lagoon will contrive to make the station an artistic spot. It is expected that the station will be open for business by the first of June.

Officials of the Wisconsin-Minnesota Light company were in the city during the past week conferring with the mayor, council and local bankers in regard to constructing the power line from Sparta to this city. The construction from Sparta to Viroqua will cost about $90,000 and the company agreed to furnish one-half the amount, providing the banks of Viroqua, Westby and Cashton would furnish the remainder. The three Viroqua banks have each agreed to take $5,000. Banks at Westby, Cashton, Melvina and Leon will take up the remainder, all villages that will be benefited by the power line. The power rate will be cut practically in two by the establishment of the power line, and a reduction of about two cents per kilowatt made on the light rates, and a superior grade of service effected.

GRANDVIEW NURSES' HOME HAS SEVERAL SPLENDID FEATURES

Swimming Pool and Other Attractions in Building Opened on Sunday

The formal opening of the Grandview Nurses' home, located in the seventeen hundred block on Main street and built at a cost of $80,000, was held Sunday when the building was opened to visitors for inspection. The building itself was finished nearly two months ago, but the interior decorating and furnishing has just been completed.

The new home is a large three story building of fireproof construction, built of brick, Pyro-bar and cement. The floors throughout are of reinforced concrete with a heavy layer of corkstone, a composition which renders them sanitary, resilient and practically noiseless. The walls and woodwork are of white, while the doors are of mahogany finish with glass knobs. The stairways are of marble and steel.

Swimming Pool is Feature

The La Crosse building has a feature which many other schools lack in the possession of a perfectly equipped swimming pool. This pool is of the spoon-shaped type equipped with wall showers and is particularly well lighted.

Over five hundred people visited the building Sunday and showed a great deal of interest in what is known as the demonstrating room where practical instruction in hospital methods is given the students. Pictured reproductions of the human body line the walls and several skeletons stand at one end of the room, while at the other end is a bed containing a life-sized doll. This room, like the swimming pool, is in the basement of the building.

On the ground floor, in addition to sleeping rooms, is a large living room which runs the width of the building. High casement windows and a jade tiled colonial fireplace lend a homelike atmosphere. Additional sleeping rooms, a kitchen for the private use of the nurses and the class room for academic recitation are found on the third floor. The class room is unique in that it is built after the manner of a sun parlor with windows on three sides.

Local Florists Donate

In honor of the opening day the La Crosse Floral company, Theodore Kiemahs and the John A. Salzer Seed company furnished the floral decorations gratis. Large well filled rose bowls were plentiful as were also baskets of miscellaneous flowers and ferns. Potted palms were set in the nooks of the walls of the swimming pool room.

The home will adequately care for thirty-seven nurses with suites of rooms arranged for the superintendent of the hospital, the superintendent of nurses and the night superintendent. The Grandview Hospital Nurses' home or training school is operated in connection with the Grandview hospital, a corporation organized for charitable and benevolent purposes. The contract for the building was let to Peter Nelson of this city. Exclusive of the grounds the structure has cost somewhat over $80,000.

Fireman Invents a Fire Alarm

A trial was recently made of a device invented by William J. Lush, a fireman of New York city, who has hitched up the fire alarm with the telephone and phonograph so that in case of fire the phonograph is put into operation and it tells the central telephone station that there is a fire at such and such a place. The device makes use of an ordinary telephone set which may be used for the usual purposes during the day time and at night it has but to be placed on a stand which is part of the fireman's system and it is ready to convey the message in case of emergency rising. The apparatus answered the demands made upon it at the test and was voted a success.

Shock for the Explorer

The sable coat of 150 skins for which 10,000 pounds was paid recently is not, as might be supposed, the most expensive fur coat in the world. Some years ago the czarina was presented with an ermine mantle valued at 12,000 pounds; and an explorer in eastern Greenland recently discovered a native girl wearing dress of silver fox skins worth, present prices, nearly 30,000 pounds —London Tit-Bits.

THIRTY-FIVE CANDIDATES REPORT AT INITIAL TRACK MEETING HELD AT NORMAL

Plan to Hold Four Outdoor Track Meets This Season; New Rules Allow Unlimited Entries from Each School in State Meet

The first call for track issued Monday afternoon at the normal school brought out about thirty-five likely looking candidates for positions. A short meeting was held, after which the men were dismissed with orders to report Tuesday for their initial workout.

Coach "Pubby" Keeler gave a few pointers on what work was to be done, and laid down a few simple training rules. He plans to take it easy for a time and gradually work the men into condition to compete in the meets which are to be held.

Plans are being made to hold four meets this year. The first two will be school affairs as have been held in past seasons. One will be an inter-department meet in which the different courses such as Phy. Ed., College and Three-Year-High will compete, and the other to be a meet between the representatives of the Freshmen and Junior classes. A dual meet with Winona will probably be held this year if satisfactory arrangements can be made. The annual Inter-Normal state meet will be held this season on June 4, at Madison.

Due to a change in the rules the number of entries allowed each school in the state meet is to be unlimited, which will give every man who makes a good showing a chance to compete. Beginning this year the normal schools will be under rules similar to those used by the Western Inter-Collegiate Conference, except the Normal school relay race will be a half-mile instead of a mile. Two events have been added to the list this year, the hammer throw and the two mile run.

No captain has been elected as yet, but it is planned to hold the election some time this week. There are four men remaining in school who are eligible for the position. They are Harry Reget, Willard Schrader, Harry Thompson and Charles Knutson. A manager for the track squad will also be chosen this week.

SOX GOOFS MEET FIRST REVERSE

OKMULGEE, Okla., — Mike Murphy's Sox, Goofs, lost their first game of the spring trip to the Okmulgee Western association club today. Shovel Hodge pitched the entire game for Chicago. He was strong in the early innings, but weakened at the close and his fumble and wild throw gave Okmulgee the deciding score.

Ed Klepfer, former Sox and Cleveland pitcher, who lives here, worked the first four innings for Okmulgee and held the Sox scoreless. Score:

Chicago	4	12	3
Okmulgee	5	12	4

Batteries: Hodge and Lees; Klepfer, Barnes and Sinnester.

LITTLE FIVE HAS TRACK PROSPECTS

BELOIT, Wis.—With basketball out of the way, the Wisconsin Little Five colleges are turning their attention to track and baseball. Of these two sports, track seems to draw the most attention as baseball has only recently been reinstated as an inter-collegiate sport.

Ripon will suffer most of all the Badger teams from loss of stars of last year's teams. The Crimson has won the championship each year during the last four seasons and many stars were lost through graduation. Capt. Morgan, half miler; Luedke, dash man; Short distance star; Morse, another distance runner, and Bartlett, weight man, have all been lost to the Crimson through graduation.

Coach Olsen still has material for a championship team in Capt. Harvey, Eaton, Usher, Roese, Gunderson, F. Morgan, Vornholt and Jerdee. If Hann, star dasher and record holder of the state in the century, high hurdles and broad jump returns to school in championship is almost assured to Ripon as this star seldom enters a meet that he does not take at least 20 points.

Beloit looms up as having a strong team. With Gates, Saxby, Morrill, See, and a few other veterans back, Osgood has a squad that is bound to count high. In Addie, Beloit backers are counting in having a man who will win the dashes and jumps. Beloit recently won the Little Five indoor relay and appear to be very strong in these events.

Lawrence looses only Lean, star high jumper from last year's team. McChesney has good prospects in Wheeler, the two Hooleys, Mitchell, Williams, Roeder, Smith and Colvin and all can be counted on as sure point getters.

Carroll Needs Material

Carroll has a few real stars in Hearst, Krameg and Haugen, although new material is reported.

Just what new material the freshmen will present to the various teams will not be known until competition results.

Ripon and Carroll have recently reinstated baseball and all the colleges will play the national game except Lawrence. Intercollegiate meets in tennis are also expected to materialize.

CHICAGO CUBS HEAD EAST ON PRACTICE GAME TOUR TUESDAY

Bill Marriott, Infielder, Joins Club at Los Angeles; Due in Kansas Wednesday

YUMA, Ariz.,—Manager Evers is piloting his entire Cub squad back east. He failed to sever relations with any players while on the coast, although Walter McCredie of Portland was much put out that he did not obtain three men in exchange for Outfielder Maisel. The only Cubs dismissed were Jim Kenny, Jim Coble, and Catcher Frank Meyers. They were semi-pros from in and around Chicago.

The Cubs have an option of paying Portland cash to complete the Maisel deal, and probably they will exercise this. McCredie said the Cubs wanted an option on his club in return for players, and he would not give it.

Marriott Getting Better

Bill Marriott, infielder, joined the Cubs at Los Angeles Monday morning. He had been operated on for appendicitis in a Pasadena hospital. Marriott is regaining strength rapidly and will be able to play again by midseason.

The Cubs are due in Hutchinson, Kas., Wednesday. They play Wichita there and then go to Wichita on a trolley. Manager Evers says he will not split the squad, but that the entire outfit will "make" the exhibition stops along with the regulars. Evers appears to be an old fashioned manager, who figures a training trip is for training, and not for the purpose of collecting nickels and dimes.

Cubs All Over Train

The trip is being accomplished in six Pullmans, as some railroad expert in Los Angeles sold out the Cubs' private cars, and the athletes had to be distributed here and there.

BIDS FOR MATCH STILL POUR IN TO TEX RICKARD

NEW YORK.—With five days until the "open season" closes, the "hunting" for the Dempsey-Carpentier fight continues along large lines.

Tex Rickard is still hearing by wire and mail from the four corners of fortunes that are waiting for him if he will dispose of the contracts with the two heavyweights.

The latest comes from one J. L. Sexsmith, Spokane lumberman, who asks Rickard to let him know the best offer and he'll go it $50,000 better. He wants to get the fight for northern Idaho.

To each and all of them and to all curious ones Rickard has a patented answer:

"I'll tell you Saturday."

The cure of scurvy is credited to Captain Cook, the explorer.

ITEMS FROM FIELD OF SPORT

Earl Craddock threw George Kotsonaros after two hours, twenty-four minutes at Columbus, last night.

Rocky Kansas knocked out Bobby Ward in the fifth round at St. Paul last night.

Strangler Lewis threw John Pesek in one hour and thirty-four minutes with a bar arm lock at New York last night.

Amateur Golfers whose handicaps are higher than five strokes would be barred from the national amateur championship tournament under a request sent out from Chicago today to secretaries of the sectional golf associations by James D. Standish, Jr., chairman of the eligibility list of the United States Golf association.

The outstanding light of the White Sox team in its game yesterday with the Gassers of Shreveport was the manner in which Bob Falk wielded his bat, hitting for a double, single and home run, which netted five of the twelve runs earned by the Sox. Shreveport got five runs.

Manager Evers and his Cubs today were on their way back from California with the entire original aggregation of players. However, through a deal with the Portland club for outfielder Maisel several players may yet be released to that club.

Johnny Dundee, New York lightweight, has been matched with Johnny Ray, Pittsburgh, for a ten round bout at Pittsburgh next Monday night.

Harry Lunte, utility infielder, will play second for the Cleveland Indians during the absence of Wambsganss. Up to yesterday Wambsganss had missed but one game in two years. Wamby sustained a fractured bone in his right arm by a thrown ball. He will be out of the lineup for a month, it is said. The Indians will be at Mobile today.

All reserved seats for the opening game of the American league season at Cleveland, April 21, and for the first Sunday game, April 24, have been sold. St. Louis will be the champions' oponents on both dates.

Wood Platt today announced he will be a member of the party of American amateurs who will try to lift the British golf championship.

The Washington club was called off the field in the third inning of their game with the Giants by Manager McBride after he had protested Brennan's decisions and been ordered off the field.

FIRST SPARTA SOLDIER KILLED IN FRANCE IS BURIED HERE SUNDAY

Hundreds Attend Funeral of Eugene Oakes; Body Brought from France

SPARTA, Wis.—One of the largest attended funeral services ever held in Sparta was the one on Sunday afternoon at the Armory, over the remains of Eugene Oakes, the first Sparta boy to make the supreme sacrifice in France in the World war.

The body was sent from Hoboken, N. J., where it arrived from overseas, reaching this city last Friday.

Eugene Oakes was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Sim Oakes, former residents of Sparta, now making their home in Hillsboro. He was born in Sparta June 28, 1895, was reared in this city, and educated in the city schools. He enlisted in Company L, 128th Infantry March 27, 1917. He was in training with his company at Camp Douglas, going from there to Camp MacArthur, Waco, Texas, and from there the company was moved to Camp Merritt, New Jersey, from which place they sailed for France February 18, arriving in that country March 4, 1918.

After going to France, Eugene was transferred to Company G, Twenty-eighth Infantry regular army. He was killed in action May 21, 1918. At the time of his death, memorial services were held in the city in the M. E. church and the Masonic lodge, of which he was a member, also held services.

The services on Sunday, was military throughout. The American Legion and the sailors in the community attended in a body, and the West Salem band played martial music. The Rev. E. E. Horth, pastor of the M. E. church, officiated. A large number of relatives attended the ceremonies with the sorrowing parents, and the hall was filled to its capacity with those who wished to pay their respect to one of Sparta's honored dead.

The grand jury has refused to indict Jack Dunn, manager of the Baltimore Internationals, on charges of working on Sunday, in a baseball game at Oriole park on April 8. Efforts are being made by various Sunday observance organizations to oppress ball-playing here on that day but thus far without success.

The Screen

AT THE THEATERS TODAY

Rivoli—Anita Stewart in "Sowing the Wind"; the Beyerstedt orchestra.

Majestic—Pauline Frederick in "A Slave of Vanity"; vaudeville, Toots and Paul, comedy novelty; Lewis Stanley, funny songs and talk.

Riviera—Vaudeville—Cal Dean and his Five Sorority Girls; Merry and Gay, witty sayings and jokes; Viola Dana in the Metro special, "The Off Shore Pirate"; Ford Weekly; Riviera orchestra.

Casino—Gladys Walton in "Rich Girl, Poor Girl"; serial, "Lost City"; Fox News.

Strand—Roy Stewart, supported by a big cast in "The Sagebrusher"; comedy, "Trouble Bubbles."

PAULINE FREDERICK IN WONDERFUL SPECTACLE

"One of the most finished pictures ever produced" is the unanimous verdict of critics who have seen "A Slave of Vanity," the first picture made by Pauline Frederick for Robertson-Cole, which opened at the Majestic on Monday. The photoplay is a screen adaptation of "Iris," Sir Arthur Wing Pinero's famous drama. Ever given to lavishness of detail, the author outdid himself in "Iris" with the result that the screen version makes an unusually beautiful spectacle.

The theme is of a woman who has been used to luxury all her life. Her husband dies leaving her his great fortune but there is a string attached to it. If she marries again she loses the money. About the time the picture opens, Iris, the widow, finds herself in love with a young man who has great talents but no money. His uncle has offered him a ranch in a foreign land if he will go and live on it. Iris is in a quandary. She loves the man but she also loves luxury. If she marries she loses every cent.

There is a third party in the equation. A rich London banker, who loves Iris and wants her to marry him. She has no affection for the banker but his is the greatest fortune in England. It is a puzzling problem for the beautiful young widow. The trick of the picture is the manner in which she is finally aided in making her choice. The ending is very satisfactory and is reached through a series of surprises.

ANITA STEWART IN BIG FILM AT RIVOLI

"Sowing the Wind," which has Anita Stewart as its charming star, is finding success in an engagement at the Rivoli theater, being received with unmistakable approval by large audiences. It can be classified as one of the really good pictures of the current season and it is of more than the usual appeal since it contains all the elements which go to make up a modern picture of ceaseless action. Miss Stewart, by a finished performance in her portrayal of the character of a beautifully innocent girl whose mother is a "queen" of revellers in a notorious gambling house, commands hearty sympathy. She registers the changing emotions of a girl in such a predicament with fine shading and no one can go away from the theater without taking the feeling that it makes no difference what obstacles an evil fate may place in the way of a human being, there can come happiness ultimately. The most interesting phase of the story hinges upon the girl meeting the man of her heart and her subsequent battles to have and to hold him despite her totally unsatisfactory material antecedent. Another interesting twist to the narrative is her discovery of her own father, who proves to be a very interesting character. A splendid suspense is maintained until the very end of the picture.

VIOLA DANA AND VODVIL AT THE RIVIERA TODAY

The two-day vaudeville attractions at the Riviera will be given for the last times this evening. Cal Dean and his Five Sorority Girls in their swift-moving musical revue, have been attracting much attention; a packed theater greeting them on Monday night. Merry and Gay also are winning their share of the applause with the snappy offering of witty sayings and jokes. The feature picture today is "The Off Shore Pirate," a Metro classic featuring Viola Dana and Jack Mulhall. "The Off Shore Pirate" is the story of a group of people who adopt desperate measures to save Ardita Farnam an heiress, from the wiles of a scheming Russian who is after her money. Piratical tactics in Ardita's spruce yacht bring about a series of thrilling escapades, ending in a reversal of the intriguer's hopes and the ushering in of new ones.

"THE SAGEBRUSHER"—STRAND

Where is the man who said that nothing thrillingly new could be evolved in man-to-man fights in motion pictures? Whoever it was has not seen Benjamin B. Hampton's "The Sagebrusher," photoplay of the famous novel of that title by Emerson Hough, showing at the Strand today. Mr. Hough wrote into a novel not intended for the screen the color of an incident he had witnessed nearly thirty years ago, and thus, when the novel was filmed at last, it furnished motion pictures with an entirely novel setting for a primal struggle. As seen in the photoplay, Roy Stewart and Edwin Wallock in the respective roles of chief hero and chief villain of the all-star cast, fight desperately on the roof of a shanty that is drifting, half-submerged, down the roaring flood caused by the bursting of a huge power dam in a narrow mountain canyon. The photoplay of "The Sagebrusher" is one of a new school, which depends upon winning the sympathy, joy and tears of the heart rather than by wild thrills, exciting the nerves of the spectator.

MOTION PICTURE NEWS

Did you know that Governor Prnes of Minnesota, as a guest of George Peloban, admitted he was Motion Picture's Rip Van Winkle, as he saw his first motion picture last week at the Capitol theater in St. Paul and stated from the stage that one year from date he will have seen fifty-two pictures or more?

Did you know that the motion picture business was America's fifth largest industry and that over five million people daily see Paramount pictures, that there is one motion picture theater to every 6,177 people in the United States, so you can see La Crosse is well represented in this line of entertainment? One of the most interesting of all recent events of the motion picture business and of great interest to La Crosse theater-goers was a back-to "Normalcy" plan for better pictures led by Mr. Jesse Lasky, who formulated his 14 points for cleaner and more wholesome screen entertainment to be striven for in all Paramount productions. Mr. Rheaans advised us that he has just arranged a contract with Mr. Koppelberger, manager of the Majestic, Rivoli and La Crosse theater, to supply them with Paramount pictures for 1923, among which will be such splendid and stupendous attractions as Sentimental Tommy, The Gilded Lily, The Witching Hour, The Faith Healer, Forbidden Fruit, Brewster's Millions, Heliotrope, and many others too numerous to mention.

James Garfield's nomination came after he was prevented by a point of order from forbidding his name to be before the republican convention in 1880.

SURE WAY TO GET RID OF BLACKHEADS

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads and that is to dissolve them.

To do this get two ounces of calonite powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear, leaving the parts without any mark whatever. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions from the body that form in the pores of the skin—pinching and squeezing only cause irritation, make large pores, and do not get them out after they become hard. The calonite powder and the water simply dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition. Anybody troubled with these unsightly blemishes should certainly try this simple method.

MARKET IS ACTIVE

Stocks Forge Ahead With Easy Money Market Compelling Factor

NEW YORK—Aside from the rails, in which dealings were nominal, and Atlantic Gulf, where severe pressure was evident, the stock market forged steadily ahead during Tuesday's active session. Money was the propelling factor, call loans opening at six per cent. This is the lowest initial rate for such accommodations in more than two months. Oils, motors and rubbers gained 1 to 3 points, steels, equipments and coppers 1 to 2 and specialties of diverse types, notably American Woolen, Central Leather, International Paper, Beet Sugar and Sears-Roebuck 1 to almost 3 points. Exchange on London recovered part of Monday's reversal.

Initial dealings in the stock market were again very irregular and confusing. On the constructive side Studebaker was most prominent, rising a point in the first few transactions and soon extending its lead to 1⅝. General Asphalt and Houston Oil also were strong, with American Woolen, American International, St. Paul and Sears-Roebuck.

Unsettled conditions in Holland probably accounted for the two point reaction in Royal Dutch. Pressed Steel Car and Atlantic Gulf also were reactionary. Mexican Petroleum, yesterday's most erratic feature, yielded a large fraction at the outset but soon strengthened.

WHEAT MARKET BULLISH

Rumors of Export Contracts For New Wheat Lifts Values in Today's Trading

CHICAGO, Ill.—Sentiment became a little more bullish Tuesday in the wheat market after initial declines due to rains in Kansas and Nebraska. Subsequent advances were associated with gossip that new wheat was already being contracted for by export interests. Smallness of the present visible supply tended also to lift values. Opening prices, which ranged from ¼c decline to a like advance with May 1.38 to ¾ and July $1.14¾ to $1.15¼ were followed by moderate setbacks all around and then by a rise to well above Monday's finish.

Subsequently an opinion became prevalent that rainfalls had been so heavy as to remove for a long time any likelihood of a dry weather scare. As a result July fell to the lowest price yet this season. The close was heavy 1⅛ to 4⅛c net lower with May $1.36¼ to ½ and July $1.10¾ to $1.11.

Corn hardened with wheat. After opening unchanged to ⅛c higher, including May at 60 to ⅛c the market sagged a bit and then scored general gains.

Later, despite scantiness of arrivals, corn sagged again when wheat turned down grade. The close was weak at the same as yesterday's finish to ¼c lower with May 59¾ to ⅞c.

Oats were governed by the action of other grain, starting ⅛c off to ⅛c up, July 38⅞ to 39c, then receded somewhat and later had an upward slant.

Higher quotations on hogs gave firmness to provisions.

DAWES MISSION ASKED TO BARE "SOLDIER ABUSES"

Harding Urges Diligent Inquiry Into Alleged Neglect of Veterans

WASHINGTON, D. C.—President Harding Tuesday asked his special commission, headed by Charles G. Dawes of Chicago, "to make "diligent inquiry" of government department heads in an effort to find out just where the government agencies have been "lacking in authority, neglectful or failing" in caring for disabled service men. He also asked that investigation be made of "the abuses which have developed."

The president's request was in the form of a statement. Mr. Dawes announced the president's wishes would be carried out to the letter and that the inquiry would not be directed into controversial or extended subjects.

FIRST THREE MONTHS OF SESSION PRODUCE LITTLE LEGISLATION OF IMPORTANCE

MADISON, Wis.—The first three months of the present legislative session have produced no constructive legislation of importance, a survey of the 90 acts signed by the governor shows. With the exception of appropriation bills and one or two minor measures, the legislation passed is of minor local consequence.

Work of the session up to the present has been largely confined to killing labor and tax proposals and of postponing final action on other bills of particular importance. Both houses have spent their first 90 days in lining up and becoming more acquainted with their task.

When the legislators return for the next leg of their session this coming week, they will commence consideration of marketing and education, two of their biggest problems, with taxation and reapportionment to be next in line. These measures will bring out the greatest amount of debate and will take up the time of the legislature more than any other.

The slow progress of legislation is lengthening out the session more than was anticipated and has given little hope that reapportionment can even be attempted before the other measures have been disposed of. A special session to complete the redistricting of the state is looked for.

Up to the present time bills involving the personal property offset and a raise in the income tax exemptions have been killed. A proposal for an automobile tax based on the value of the machine has been made to the joint finance committee, which also has two surtax proposals and an income tax bill under consideration.

Labor measures have practically all been killed by the assembly. Bills calling for an eight hour day have met death, as have a number of measures involving railroad labor, while a few proposals still remain to be acted on.

Prohibition has run the gauntlet in one house, but is stranded in the other and it may be more than a month before the final status of the Matheson bill can be established. The initiative and referendum in the form advocated by Governor Blaine has been killed by the senate, although a substitute proposal which excludes the constitution from its provisions has been introduced and will be passed according to expression of senators who opposed the original resolution.

The big education proposals including reorganization of the state administrative system, the teachers' retirement fund and the junior college bill all remain to be considered by both houses. Similarly, marketing has hardly got under way in either house.

Some of the most interesting developments of the session are expected from the special legislative committee which will investigate boards and commissions with a view toward elimination and consolidation to bring about greater centralization of authority in the state government.

Speaker Young has not yet appointed the three assembly members to the committee, although provided for a month ago. He will select representatives friendly to the present commissions to counter-balance the moves of the senate members, it is known.

The slow deliberate actions of both houses of the legislature point to a long session which is not expected to end before July. Unless there is a turn in the attitude of the members toward pending legislation a number of sharp floor divisions are expected with a very probable lack of agreement between the senate and assembly which will tend to prolong the session.
